What methods of data collection would you use to find the answers to this question?

But we still experienced some problems...

- Ethical issues
- Focus groups
- Lack of reach

1. Thinking beyond the classroom

2. Supportive, encouraging staff

3. Interdisciplinary, creative research methods

Penrynopoly: bringing the community together since 2016

Nellie Hughes reports on the event held this weekend to promote community engagement and discuss local issues.

1. How can you integrate innovative research methods into your institution?
2. What problems might student involvement directly tackle?
3. What skills might students gain as a result of this?

Any questions?
